Subject: Message from Raymond: An opportunity to Make A Difference

Dear Colleagues,

Earlier today, I travelled to the Sandown Racecourse Vaccination Centre managed by Monash Health in Springvale.

I was joined by colleagues from our Infrastructure and Stations teams, who were keen and eligible to receive their COVID-19 vaccine. This follows expanded eligibility for designated frontline Transport workers, announced by the Minister for Health, Martin Foley.

I was also pleased to receive my COVID-19 vaccination recently – so too was Rob Duvel, our Executive Director, Safety and People.

As you know, Metro continues to follow the latest public health advice and we encourage our people to do the same.

I urge all colleagues who are eligible to consider the opportunity to get vaccinated, in keeping with the current public health advice.

The Department of Health has advised that available COVID-19 vaccines are safe – and that people should speak with their GP, should they have any questions.

We will continue to keep you informed of any future expansions of the vaccine program, relevant to the ‘Transport worker’ designation.

To find out more about vaccine bookings and eligibility – and for the latest public health guidance, including a regularly updated list of exposure sites – please continue to visit coronavirus.vic.gov.au

I want to thank everyone who joined me today and to our hosts at Monash Health.

Stay safe and take care.

Raymond
